BLOOMINGTON NURSERY:
PUBLISHED BY F. K. PHOENIX, PROPRIETOR,
BLOOMINGTON, McLEAN COUNTY, ILLINOIS.

LAKESIDE PRESS, CHICAGO.
SPRING OF 1875.

OUR MOST GRATUOUS ACKNOWLEDGMENTS. — While inviting particular attention to the stock and assortment of splendid Novelties and choice Ornamental Plants generally, set forth in this catalogue.

THIRTEEN HOUSES, for Plants and propagating purposes, give unusual facilities; so we may truly say our collection is much the largest and best ever offered here — and indeed, for Western purchasers, we doubt is at all equaled.

OUR PLANTS — Are in most splendid health and vigor, of the best size and shape for packing, and put up in the most approved style for safe transit. They are usually sent by express — for which there are excellent facilities at this point.

DIRECTIONS — Don't fail to give name and Post Office address with every order and on every letter or postal card. As a rule, we prefer expressing, where available; therefore, please give us the name of your regular express office, in case you expect the plants by express.

PRICES — Named herein, are, when cash in full accompanies order, to be to the amount of $1 or over, for parcels of plants by mail or express PREPAID TO THE PURCHASER.

TERMS — Net cash here to amount of Bill — with order, or (if customer prefers not to send cash with order, and if not too distant) by Express with Bill "C. O. D.," i.e., "Collect on Delivery" of goods, with express charges and return charges on the money added. Of course it is much cheaper, and better every way, to send cash with order. After delivering at Express, Post-Office, or Depot, our responsibility ceases. Errors and mistakes of ours cheerfully corrected. We want to hear from every purchaser, and every lot sent out.

REMITTANCES — In registered letters or bank notes by mail at sender's risk, though generally safe. By postal orders, New York, Chicago or St. Louis exchange (NOT private checks), or prepaid by express, are the surest modes.

PURCHASERS' SELECTIONS — Gladly allowed, and the choice new varieties, usually included in sets or tens, as far as practicable, without extra charge; but at wholesale, as per ten, the selection must be ours, to preserve the assortment.

DESCRIPTIONS OF NEW PLANTS — We give our own as far as we have had time to test — otherwise we must give such as we get with the plants.

TIME OF PLANTING — From time Spring frosts cease up to June 15th. A most admirable feature of pot-grown plants, is the perfect safety and facility of using to advantage up to a very late period, say July 10th, for instance, where new places cannot be got ready in the usual Spring season for planting, or where seeds, etc., have failed. The only prerequisite is to choose, if possible, a moist, cloudy time for planting out, or use shade and water temporarily till rain comes. For very late planting, the Monthly Roses are best for bloom; next the quick growers and perpetual bloomers, as Ageratum, Zonal and H. P. Geraniums, Lantanas, Petunias, Verbenas, Salvia, Vincas, also the beautiful Achyranthus and Coleus — all good but C. Vershaffelt especially.

DAHLIAS.

Most popular summer and autumn flowers, truly magnificent, almost a new floral creation, so improved and unlike the original. They need thorough protection from winds, with a mixture of sand in very heavy or adhesive soil. Wire hoops, set in stakes, make a neat support. The Dahlia is impatient of shade and drooth, and likes deep, rich, moist soil. Our collection being largely of best new sorts, we have of many kinds but few dry roots. Where agreeable, let orders be for number of each color wanted. A full assortment by name can be better furnished from pot plants. These are planted from time spring frosts cease, May 10th or 15th, to June. If well established and cultivated, pot plants are preferred for blooming. In full, before frost, heap dirt about crowns; after tops freeze, cut them off, take up roots, dry off, and pack away in dry sand or ashes, in cellar where they will not freeze.

Price, dry roots, 25c each; $2 per 10; pot plants, 20c each; $1 20 per 10.

ROSES.

No plant is more popular than the Rose, and none gives better satisfaction when treated properly. In no case will they do well when planted in the grass singly, on lawns, etc., without thorough care and culture.

The Rose seems thoroughly at home in the West, if the plants have good soil and cultivation. All but the hardiest sorts winter better if the tops are bent down and covered with straw or litter the Fall.

For the convenience of purchasers, we have arranged the Summer or Hardy and Perpetual Roses into separate Divisions, and these into separate Classes.

Division 1st—June Roses. Division 2d—Perpetual and Hybrid Perpetual Roses.

Purchasers will always do better to leave the selection of varieties, as far as possible, to us.

"OWN ROOTS." Price, 50c., except noted. Ten good varieties—our choice, $2.00.

These are Hybrids, or Crosses between June and Monthly Roses; flowering at intervals through the summer, and are by far the most popular family of Roses. They should have deep, rich soil, and high cultivation, as they can only bloom on new shoots or growth. Some free bloomers exhaust themselves in the first crop of bloom in June. Cutting off the superfluous buds then, and also the seed pods after the bloom fails, will make finer blossoms, and better late crops of flowers. Some varieties flower much better later than others.

MONTHLY ROSES.

Bourbon, Noisette, Tea and China Roses are popularly termed “Monthlies,” flowering, as most do in pots, nearly every month, and in open air constantly from June till severe frost. They are easily raised from cuttings, and a few of the best kinds are termed Monthlies because they are tender and hardy, hence more room and age. But, as a class, for those wishing roses and the most exquisite rose-buds at all times, these Monthlies are incomparably the most useful of all. Many kinds—we believe most of the good growers—will endure over winter here, and still further north, by covering in Fall a good mound of earth or leaves over the crowns, laying boards and litter over the mound to keep off wet. We have thus wintered perfectly Appoiile, Malmaison, Rosamene, Joseph de Crevon and many others. Though the tops die down, the crowns in Spring throw up strong new flower shoots. But suppose they die because tender—why reject them? Why such excessive economy in the matter of roses—flowers—alone? A dollar for a dozen, or $5 or $100 for a new sort, is not deemed extravagant now. Then the ceaseless expense for eating, drinking and display of jewelry, confectionery, ale, tobacco, etc. WHY NOT LOVE AND ADORE OUR HOMES as well—Bring our EACH SPRING a few dollars, it may be, to bedeck them with new, smiling, summer dresses, to give us at each outgoing and incoming a glad welcome.

Mostly good bloomers and fine for pots, not so hardy generally as H. Perpetuals, though most will endure winter here, with trifling protection. To make sure, however, cover or mound up with earth as recommended above for Monthlies.

NOISETTE ROSES.

Most superb summer and autumn roses, remarkable for exquisite shades of salmon and yellow. Some of the best, particularly of those colors, require old wood and much room to bloom. AAS. will find pot roses here. In a southern climate they become most magnificent perpetual climbers. Thorough protection over winter is best for Noisettes. However, Cretanella and Solfatara we wintered successfully, in open air, several seasons in Wisconsin, and the same protection recommended above for Monthlies will suffice.

Class VIII. SUMMER FLOWERING BULBS.

FOR SPRING PLANTING.

ANEMONE.

A most beautiful flower, every year becoming more popular, and when planted in beds or masses, with colors of the most brilliant scarlet, red, blue, rose and striped, the effect is striking. I wish everyone who has a garden to grow some of these gems of Flora; even if you fail, the cost is not ruinous. Plant three inches deep, six inches apart. Should you receive something resembling dried pieces of bark, do not be surprised; it is the root.

GLADIOLUS.

Persons acquainted only with the old Sword Lily Gladiolus can scarcely imagine the improvement recently made upon them. For purity and brilliancy of color, from white to dazzling crimson, combined with soft, rich salmon and velvety shades, the New Hybrid Gladiolus are unrivaled among Summer flowering bulbs. A single bulb sometimes produces several stems of bloom, and a succession of flowers for two months. The cultivation is of the simplest description. Plant the bulbs for early bloom the second week in April, following up your planting every two weeks till the second week in June. They delight in rich soil, and should be planted from two to three inches deep, and six to nine inches apart, according to the size of the bulb. Those who purchase by the hundred, and plant in rows, may place them two feet or more apart from row to row—others plants in flower beds sufficiently. Growing, as they will, above Geraniums, Verbenas, and most bedding plants, they not only have a very pretty effect, but you make the most of the small space allotted to you. This beautiful tribe of plants should be planted everywhere. When cut and placed in water, the flower buds expand and last a long time. Planted by hundreds in the borders among evergreens or foliage plants, they brighten and enliven the beds during the Summer and Autumn months; cheaper varieties can be supplied for this purpose. In the Fall, when the bloom is over, take up the bulbs, allowing them to dry thoroughly a few days; take off the tops, and put in a place free from frost and moisture. Examine them occasionally, to see that they are not too dry, or suffering from dampness. I offer them in collections.

LILIES.

The Lily always has been and always will be a favorite. There are no plants more suitable for out-door culture. None of the new varieties have displaced the old White Garden Lily. None surpasses the snowy beauty of L. Longiflorum, with flowers nearly six inches across, and very fragrant. Furthermore, the beauty of the varieties of Lilium Lanciflorum are not excelled by any other flower.

Plant in the spring, as soon as the ground is workable, four inches deep, and allow them to remain in the ground for years. Lilies are moderately well adapted for pot culture. A mixture of fibrous loam and leafmold, with a little sand, makes the best compost for them. Six-inch pots are the best size, the Fall the best season to pot, though it can be done through Winter and early Spring with very satisfactory results. If potted in Fall, they should be wintered in a cold frame, cool cellar, or the dark corner of the garage. Water should be freely given during growth. When in bloom, they should have a cool, airy place, such as a shaded porch, or well aired sitting room, where they will bloom in perfection.

Splendid Novelties—Lilium Tigrinum Flore Pleno.

(Doubie Flowering Tiger Lily.)

While many other varieties have claimed and merited universal admiration, this is certainly a plant of most vigorous, stately, hardy habit, growing four feet high, foliage dark green, very long, bearing a large number of very double bright orange red flowers, spotted with black, a very remarkable novelty. Price $1 each.

Lilium Washingtonianum.

A new variety, a native of California, and one of the most beautiful Lilies yet introduced. Flowers erect, pure white, with bright scarlet spots. They are produced in great numbers and are delightfully fragrant. $1 each; $9 per 10.

LILY OF THE VALLEY.
Of low growth, the graceful bowes of fairy-like Lily bells, in exquisite contrast with the broad, rich foliage. Its fragrant snow-white blossoms are ever welcome. It does well in pots for house in September when planted in the garden will last for years without care. It does well even in shade. Flowers in May.

CONVALLARIA MAJALIS. White. Each, 15c.; per 10, 80c.

CRINUM LONGIFLORUM.
Of the Amaryllis family, and requiring similar treatment. Flowers long, pure white, pretty. Price 50c.

VANILLA LILY (Pancratium).
Of the Amaryllis tribe; growth vigorous. Warm greenhouse. Flower stalks, 16 inches; stem, 5 inches. Base of flower trumpet-shaped, with cup 2 inches, like crimped tissue paper, with six drooping narrow petals, 4 inches long. Color the purest white, with most delicious vanilla fragrance. Winter and spring. Very much admired, and of the easiest culture. Very beautiful. Price 50c. to $1.50.

VALLOTAS.
A beautiful flowering, bulbous-rooted plant of the Amaryllis family, adapted for pot culture, blooming in July or August, throwing up a spike of brilliant scarlet lily-like flowers. Very attractive also as a summer bedding plant.

VALLOTA PURPUREA. Each, 50c.

MADEIRA VINE.
A beautiful climbing plant, its glossy foliage and numerous fragrant white flowers make it a great favorite. Price 10c. each; 50c. per 10.

OXALIS.
A pretty plant of dwarf habit, producing bright-colored flowers in the greatest profusion. Plant three to six in a five-inch pot—a light, porous soil is best; water sparingly till the plants begin to grow, keeping as near the light as possible. Plant as soon as you can get the bulbs.

BOWEI, beautiful large rose. Each 80c.
BOWEI, VERSICOLOR, variegated, pink and scarlet. Each 80c.
CERUNA, fine bright yellow. Each 80c.
ALBA, pure white, beautiful dwarf. Each 25c.

RANUNCULUS.
Neglected, but very beautiful in brightness of color and symmetry of form. They flower late in May or June, and when massed in a bed, are very effective. The voluminous directions often given for their culture bewildered the reader. Plant in a good, friable loam, with decayed cow-dung thoroughly incorporated; and when planting, let the soil be well trodden down, so that the roots will be firmly fixed to the depth of one inch, and six to nine inches apart. Water sparingly till well established. It is not considered hardy. The spring would be the best time to plant. The oxalis, like the Anemone, is particulary attractive. It is surprising to small a root can produce such beautiful flowers. After blooming, take up and treat as directed for the Anemone. For house and greenhouse culture, they are moderately well adapted.

RANUNCULUS, Double Persian. Each 10c.; 50c. per 10.

TRITOMA.
The red-hot poker plant of Europe, throwing up a spike from three to five feet high; very attractive flowers, red and yellow; admirably adapted for forming large, effective groups and beds. They thrive in any ordinary garden soil, and the early frosts do not affect the bloom. Root fibrous. Take up in the Fall and protect from the severe cold, giving the roots some light and air. Perfectly hardy at the South.

TRITOMA UVARIA. Each 25c.; $2.00 per 10.

TIGRIDIAS—TIGER FLOWER.
Mexican bulbs, growing about one and a half feet high, producing flowers of curious shape, and very distinct and beautiful colors. In bloom from July to October. Plant any time in May or June, about two inches deep, in any garden soil. After the tops are killed by frost, take up the bulbs and keep them from frost in a dry place until the time of planting in the Spring.

CONCHIFLORA. Orange, spotted with black. 25c. each; $2.00 per 10.
PANSONIA. Scarlet, spotted with yellow. 25c. each; $2.00 per 10.
CANARIENSIS. Rare Canary Tiger flower. 40c. each.

DOUBLE TUBEROSES.
The Tuberose is the most fragrant of summer-flowing bulbs, throwing up spikes of double white flowers, two to four feet high, which remain in bloom a long period. When they are needed very early, plant in the greenhouse or hot-bed in February or March; and for a succession of flowers, in April or May. In planting, remove the useless small offsets around the main root, and place a single tuber in a pot four or five inches wide. On the approach of cold weather in September when remaining in bloom should be removed to the conservatory or parlor, where they will continue in flower for a longer period.

Fine flowering bulbs, 10c. each; 50c. per 10.
